WELCOME TO MARINE WATCH

Pwllheli

Marine Watch aims to:

- 🕒 Encourage marine users to help themselves and police in preventing and detecting crime;
- 🕒 Establish, through cooperation and communication, a community spirit, so that everyone can contribute to the protection of their own and others property;
- 🕒 Provide effective communication links between the police and scheme members so that information regarding suspicious persons/activity can be speedily circulated;
- 🕒 Make everyone more aware of local crime problems and more security conscious about their own boat/equipment.

As a Marine Watch member you will be contributing to a greater shared awareness of local crime problems.

Who can join?

Anyone - you do not need to own a boat or jetski. You may just enjoy taking a walk near the water or work near to the sea or river.

Is there an age limit?

No - anyone of any age can register on the scheme and help the police to combat marine related crime.

How much does it cost?

Nothing - registering on the scheme is completely free.

How do I register?

This can be done by completing the enclosed form and returning to the Marine Watch co-ordinator. It is also possible to email your details to Marine Watch.

Do I have to live in Pwllheli?

No - you may only visit at the weekends but the help and information that you can give the police is vital.

WHAT DO I HAVE TO LOOK OUT FOR?

Reporting Suspicious Behaviour

If you see or hear anything suspicious or think a crime is being/has very recently been committed the following information will be very useful to the police.

Suspicious Persons

Male/female, skin colour/complexion, height, build, age hair (colour, length style etc) eyes (colour), glasses, face, marks (scars, tattoos etc) description of clothing, other distinguishing features, direction of travel.

Suspicious Vehicles/Boats/Jetski

Type of vehicle/boat/jetski, make/model registration number, body type, any other details (damage, company name etc), direction of travel.

As soon as you have any information please report it to Marine Watch
